ARTICLE
ON ABRAHAM LINCOLN

"The world loves him. He was a man of sorrows."
 "Perhaps It Is Not Too Much to Hope That Mr. Roosevelt's Successor, by Virtue of His Intellectual Grasp, Gracious Disposition and Wide Sympathy, May Be Able to Gather Up Some of the Scattered Threads That Were Let Fall by Mr. Lincoln's Death."

Written for the Evening Journal by
Dr. C. H. PARKHURST.

One of the chief points of a man's life is the way in which he meets the trials of his life. Abraham Lincoln was a man who met his trials with a courage and a nobility that have never been surpassed. He was a man who was born in a poor and obscure part of the world, but who rose to the highest position of honor and power in the history of our country. Difficult to Discern Secret of Human Greatness
 It is hard to comprehend what Divine Providence could have meant by providing his courage, for so noble and sweet was the character which he created by the generosity and the justice of his statements, though that at an impossible not to believe that another man could have the same extraordinary power of self-education, and that administration have consented after 1861, the problem of government, of which the result had been unnecessarily laboring for almost half a century, would rather have been solved.

News of Secret and Tender Patriotism
 The news of the secret and tender patriotism of Abraham Lincoln is a source of great inspiration to all who love their country. His life and his death are a lesson to all of us.

Matchless Milk Wishes

Just make one milk dish with Van Camp's. Note the wonderful flavor and richness. Then you'll forever use it. Yet that flavor is not artificial. It comes solely from the whole, rich milk.

You are used to cooking with half-milk—you who buy from the milkman. For milkman's milk separates, before and after you get it. The butter fat rises, the solids fall. You get so you don't know what whole milk means. You get all the milk in Van Camp's. We know you will like it and will buy it right along when you see how good it is.

Try it according to the directions on the label for coffee or cocoa. Try it for making a custard or for creamed potatoes. It makes the most delicious oyster stew or the finest soup you ever tasted. Don't use it too rich. That's where many people make a mistake. They forget how much richer this milk is than milkman's milk.

Try This Recipe For Chocolate Fudge

Put two cups of granulated sugar and one-fourth a cup of Van Camp's Evaporated Milk, diluted with one-fourth a cup of water, over the fire. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, then let it cook, stirring occasionally for five minutes; add two level tablespoons of cocoa and two table-spoons of butter and cook until, when tried in cold water, it will melt and form and half a cup of oat meal, broken in pieces, and let stand until cooled a little, then add a teaspoonful of vanilla extract and beat until the mixture thickens. Turn into a pan neatly lined with paper. Bake, in water, for cooling.

This is the Real Van Camp's Evaporated Milk

Try This Recipe For Oyster Stew

Take one quart of oysters; separate them one by one to remove any bits of shell adhering to them. Heat the oyster liquor to the boiling point. Then heat the oyster liquor to the boiling point. Then heat the oyster liquor to the boiling point. Then heat the oyster liquor to the boiling point.

Delicious Rice Pudding

Put a quart of cold water over a pint half cup of rice, heat quickly to the boiling point; then drain, cover with cold water and drain again. Turn the rice in a pudding dish; add three-fourths a cup of sugar, a teaspoonful of salt, half a cup or more of cream and two-thirds of a cup and two and a half cups of water. Bake in a slow oven nearly two hours. For the mixture occasionally during the first hour. Half an hour before finishing the pudding, the rice is carefully laid on the brown crust on top and turn in half a cup of Van Camp's Evaporated Milk, diluted with half a cup of hot water. If the rice has been too hard, more liquid can be added at the last. However, to be perfect, the pudding should be baked in slow oven.

Creamed Chipped Beef

Remove the coarse particles from the edges of a cup and a half of chipped beef; cover the beef with boiling water and let stand on the back of the stove, where it will keep hot while the sauce is being made; drain the beef and stir it into the sauce. A heaping cup may be added with the beef. Serve at once with baked potatoes. For the cream sauce, melt three level tablespoons of butter, cook three level tablespoons of flour in the melted butter until the mixture is frothy, then gradually stir in one-half cup of Van Camp's Evaporated Milk, diluted with a cup of water. Stir and cook until the sauce boils. This sauce is also particularly good with one of cooked chicken, ham, veal or lamb, for hard-cooked eggs cut in quarters and for cooked onion, cauliflower, carrots, peas or asparagus.

Get Van Camp's, at all Grocers everywhere, but be careful: Van Camp's Evaporated Milk is not "Condensed Milk"

"Condensed Milk" is half sugar. You can't use it for cooking. Please don't think that Van Camp's is like that. And don't think that all "evaporated" milks are alike. For milk less rich, with more water left in, may still be called "evaporated." If you'll compare Van Camp's with other brands, you will see what a difference there is. Yet others cost as much as Van Camp's.
